HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

Elizabeth (Betty) Robson, J.D.

HONORARY DOCTOR OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Global trade leader Betty Robson is a successful attorney, Licensed Customs Broker, Master Customs Specialist, Certified Global Business Professional, and accredited Hofstede lecturer. With areas of deep expertise in areas including international trade, global trade, international business, international shipping, international supply chain, women-owned business, and women's leadership, she has spent her distinguished career interacting with importers, exporters, government agencies and other international trade experts.

Ms. Robson serves as President and CEO of JF Moran, a national customs broker, freight forwarder and worldwide logistics provider to which she has nearly 35 years. She has been working at the family-owned and operated company since she was 15, beginning as a billing clerk. Under her tenure as CEO and president, J.F. Moran, a certified woman-owned enterprise, has excelled through her focus on how individual relationships and mentoring within a company can help employees thrive.

In addition to running the family business, Ms. Robson has served as Associate Professor in the College of Business at Johnson & Wales University in Providence, teaching courses focused on global trade, supply chain management and international business negotiation.

Ms. Robson is a founding director of Women in World Trade New England and serves as Chair of the Rhode Island District Export Council, on the Board of Directors of the Northern RI Chamber of Commerce, and on the National Customs Brokers & Freight Forwarder's Association's Master Customs Specialist Review Committee. She is a past President of the Air Cargo Club of New England and was the first woman President of the Boston Customs Brokers & Freight Forwarders Association. She is also an appointed member of the RI Freight Advisory Committee and was a previously appointed member of the RI Transportation Advisory Committee. She is also Chairperson of The World Trade Day Committee for the John H. Chafee Center for International Business at Bryant University. In 2021, Providence Business News recognized Ms. Robson with its Leaders and Achievers Award.

She received her B.A. in Economics and Political Science from Boston College and her J.D. from Stetson University College of Law.

THE HARRIET E. JACOBS MEMORIAL MACE

The University Mace is carried at Commencement exercises and at other University celebrations. Crowned in gold, the mace has two dominant emblems: the seal of the State of Rhode Island and the seal of Bryant University.

THE PRESIDENT'S CHAIR

The President's Chair, a gift to the University from Priscilla Angelo and her husband, John Eng-Wong, is used on ceremonial occasions. It is a Victorian-style gent's chair rendered in walnut and copied from an original French design from the period of the University's founding in 1863. The carved crest top includes the Bryant University bronze seal.

BRYANT MEDALLION

The Bryant Medallion is worn by the president during academic ceremonies such as Commencement, Convocation, and the bestowing of honorary degrees. One side of the medallion bears a likeness of the University seal, the other, the names of all Bryant University presidents. The formal installation of a president is marked by the presentation of the medallion to the president by the chair of the Board of Trustees.

THE BRYANT SEAL

The Bryant Seal represents the educational mission of the University and its worldwide implications. The central symbol is an ellipsoid globe with quills on each side to signify the traditional emblem of communication in business. In the center, behind the globe, is a torch symbolizing liberty, the spirit of free inquiry, academic freedom, and learning. The Archway, forming the background for the globe, torch, and quills, is a University landmark affectionately remembered by thousands of alumni. The Latin motto expresses the purpose of the University: "Cognitio. Virtus. Successus." – Knowledge. Character. Success.

ACADEMIC HERALDRY

The history of academic dress worn today dates back to the universities of the Middle Ages. A statute in 1321 required the wearing of gowns by all scholars and clerics. Probably, the warm gown and hood were practical in the unheated buildings.

Students at most American universities wore caps and gowns daily while in residence until after the Civil War. These varied in design until they were standardized by the American Intercollegiate Commission in 1895. While the academic costume code has been modified over the years, the general characteristics of the initial requirements still prevail. The uniform system of academic heraldry serves to indicate the level of degree, the field of study in which it was earned, and the institution by which it was granted.

The gown for the bachelor's degree has pointed sleeves and is designed to be worn closed. The gown for the master's degree has an oblong sleeve and can be worn open or closed. The gown for the doctoral degree has bell-shaped sleeves with black velvet facing down the front and three bars of the same across the sleeves. However, these facings and crossbars may be in the color distinctive to the subject to which the degree pertains.

The academic hoods are lined with the color of the university granting the degree. The length of the hood varies slightly for bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degrees. It is often traditional for the candidates for degrees to wear the mortarboard tassel on the right front side before the degree is conferred and to shift it to the left when the degree is awarded.

At Bryant University, the president, trustees, and honorary degree recipients wear specially-designed gold robes trimmed with black, representative of the University's colors.
