

Sarah Frost joined Brown University Health in June 2024 as the chief of hospital operations and president of Rhode Island Hospital and Hasbro Children's. As president, she oversees high-quality and safe patient care, staff engagement, patient experience, process improvement and operating financial results. In addition, as Brown University Health's chief of hospital operations, Sarah provides executive oversight for The Miriam, Newport and Bradley hospitals in Rhode Island, and St. Anne's Hospital and Morton Hospital in Massachusetts.

Prior to coming to Brown University Health, Sarah worked at Banner Health in Tucson, Arizona for over 20 years, with her most recent role as the chief executive officer responsible for all Banner- University Medicine operations in Southern Arizona, which includes two academic medical centers, a children's hospital, and numerous outpatient clinics. Before serving as CEO, she worked in various management and leadership roles within Banner, the University of Arizona Health Network, and Pima County.

Sarah has been recognized as a Tucson "40 under 40" winner as well as an Arizona Capital Times' Women Achievers of Arizona recipient. She was named as one of the 2022 "Women Leading the Region" by Biz Tucson and most recently selected as one of the "Most Influential Women in Arizona Business" by AZ Business Magazine. She serves on the AAMC Council of Teaching Hospitals board.